Do you own an IT business or MSP business? Video Marketing for MSPs has been specifically written for technology businesses by a former IT business owner.

There are so many options open to you right now when it comes to marketing your IT business. Most of these options cost money and it can be very hard to prove any return on investment.

Video Marketing for MSPs is a practical guide on how to market your IT business using only your mobile phone and 5 minutes of your time daily.

Let's face it - one of the biggest challenges you face in your IT business is generating new qualified leads. Google Ads, Social Media, content marketing - all these options cost time and money.

What's worse is the fact that your competition is doing exactly the same thing - it's easy to be drowned out by the crowd.

Video is the key to success, not only will you stand out, most of your competitors aren't using video. The ones that already using video are doing it wrong.

Video Marketing for MSPs will teach you the hidden formula only a handful of business owners know about.

DATA AT THE ENTERPRISE LEVEL

Key Concepts:

Graph databases Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML) technology is geared toward transactional systems and software applications. What is missing is the analytics focus. Graph, AI and ML are not focused on the Analytics Age. We need to bridge the gap. That is what this book is for. The next convergence is between Graph, AI, ML, and Analytics at the Enterprise-Level. We need to take enterprise data and make a platform that relates and integrates transactional app data with real-time analytics to get predictive and prescriptive analytics that include relationships. Relationships are only captured in graph databases. Therefore, graph and analytics are the future and the next convergence.
