North East Connectivity Summit

North Eastern part of India has immense latent potential which can be harnessed to ensure equitable growth across the country. With 5339 kms of International borders and surrounded by some of the fastest growing economies of the world the North East is located in a uniquely advantageous Geographic position. However, to be able to leverage the unique advantages, and ensure inclusive growth, some key enablers like roads, railways, water ways, airports need to be strengthened. Development of connectivity infrastructure will have huge multiplier effects on the region's growth besides paving the way for better economic and strategic integration of the region with rest of the country and also with neighbouring countries
