

The Love Of A Grandmother is about some of the memories between a grandmother and one of her six granddaughters. The precious moments they spent talking and enjoying each other's company. The grandmother is the late Rosetta Irene Robinson Chunn and the granddaughter is the author, Karen Geneine Fernander. In the story, both are respectively nicknamed Big Mama and Bay. Karen, who will always be Bay, is eternally grateful for the goodness of her maternal grandmother, Big Mama.

Karen Geneine Fernander earned a bachelor's degree from Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, and a master's degree from Nova Southeastern University, Fort Lauderdale, Florida. She is a retired teacher who resides in Dania Beach, Florida. Karen is a proud member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated. She maintains purpose, productivity, and inspiration through virtual Christian worship, exercise, volunteerism, and huge, daily doses of positive, energized people.
