FREDERICK ROGERS

Growing up in Canada and the U.S., I always wondered how people obtained their wealth. Was there a method, a system, a plan? Or did people just take over family businesses or become doctors or lawyers. As I got older, I went to University, obtained a degree in engineering, business and finally education. Then I spent over 29 years teaching financial math, all while making notes to myself on ways to make money grow and the framework to achieve wealth. I applied these methods over the years, changing some strategies along the way, until I mastered the "secrets".

After I completed my education career, I decided to put all these ideas into an achievable framework which anybody can apply. My goal is now is to help everybody who desires to become a millionaire, turn that aspiration into a reality.
